Michael Bublé - Hollywood

```
Tom: C
Intro: F  Fm  Fm  C

Verso 1:
                      C
Could you be a teenage idol?
                     D7
Could you be a movie star?
       F                        Fm
When I turn on my TV, will you smile and wave at me,
        C
telling Oprah who you are?
                    C
So you want to be a rock star,
                              D7
with blue-eyed bunnies in your bed?
      F                                   Fm
Well, remember when you're rich that you sold yourself for this,
          C
you'll be famous 'cause you're dead

Refrão:
             Em  Am      F  C
So don't go higher for desire
G            Am
Put in in your head,
      G            D
baby, Hollywood is dead,
        F          C
you can find it in yourself

Verso 2:
                                C
Now I don't want to take you dancin'
                             D7
when you're dancin' with the world
        F                          Fm
You can flush your caviar and your million dollar car,
        C
I don't need that kind of girl
                          C
But could you be the next sensation?
                        D7
Will you set the latest style?
          F
You don't need a catchy song
           Fm                          C
'cause the kids'll sing along when you sell it with a smile

Refrão:
             Em  Am              F  C
So don't fly higher for for your fire.
G            Am
Put in in your head,
      G            D
baby, Hollywood is dead,
        F            C C C C
you can find it in yourself

F                                        Fm     Fm   C
Na na na na na na (Keep it in your head, Hollywood is dead)

Verso 3:
                          C
Well, you can do the money tango
                   D7
You can start your little band
        F                                Fm
You can swing from vine to vine while the cuties wait in line
         C
with the money in their hands
                  C                                D7
But if you get to California, save a piece of gold for me.
             F
And it's the only thing you'll save,
         Fm                          C
but I'll bet you'll never wave when I watch you on TV.
