```
                    A                        B     Dbm
I have second thoughts I just cannot explain
      A                   B            Dbm
Intermissions that keep stepping in the way
              A                  B          Dbm
What if I was wrong when I abuse vulnerable hearts
            A                        B       Abm        A  B
What if I'm wrong to act like little lies don't hurt

  A                      B       Dbm
Second thoughts I just cannot regress
    A                    B       Dbm
Intuitions that keep keeping me awake
              A                          B            Dbm
What if I was wrong to take for granted what comes free
            A                        B                Abm   A
What if I'm wrong to think there's nothing wrong with me

F   Em  F   G  Am  G    Em    G   F

             Em
We're in the maze

We're going home

       A                        B       Dbm
I have second thoughts about what I confess
          A                      B              Dbm
Strange reactions that just don't match with the rest
                  A                          B            Dbm
What if I turned all the offers down and cleaned the slate
          A             B        Abm   A  B
What if I finally accepted my mistakes

 A                     B             Dbm
Second thoughts about what I've just said
      A                          B    Dbm
Did I mean that or was I backing out again?
             A              B       Dbm
What if I decided to be brutally sincere?
         A                      B       Abm   A  B

If I had balls enough to face persistent fears
