

5 Seconds Of Summer - Woke Up In Japan

Tom: C

I woke up in Japan
 Feeling low, feeling lonely
 The best I ever had
 It was more than half empty
 I woke up in Japan
 Feeling low, feeling lonely
 The best I ever had
 It was more than half empty

It was more than just a neon weekend
 Light slipping through the third floor curtain
 Spreading love like the morning news from the day before

Falling fast, breathing slow
 Time is up, the end is just a dream
 Just a dream

I woke up in Japan
 Feeling low, feeling lonely
 The best I ever had

It was more than half empty
 It's enough to let the night let go of me
 A few steps into the open doorway
 Heart pounding, there's a noise complaint from room 304

Falling fast, breathing slow
 Time is up, the end is just a dream
 Just a dream

I woke up in Japan
 Feeling low, feeling lonely
 The best I ever had
 It was more than half empty

I woke up in Japan
 Feeling low, feeling lonely
 The best I ever had
 It was more than half empty

I woke up in Japan, woah
 I woke up in Japan, woah
