

Abbey Glover - Hardest Part

Tom: E

m
I'm so tired of not feeling anything^D

Em^D
So tired of feeling so empty

Em
Where did everything go as wrong
As wrong, as wrong as I've always^G

Been treated before?
^D
When all I ever really wanted^G

Was to love and be loved in return

Em
But now I've lost my key and now
I can't let anyone in^G

And I'm trying so hard to find it
But every key that I find it don't fit

Em
And this house is so full and messy
This house i call my head^G

And I'm trying so hard to find it^D
But letting you in it's the hardest part

Em^D
You say 'babe, I want you so'

Em
I say 'I'm so sorry, so sorry^G

But I gotta let you go'

Em
God, I hate to say this to you
But I think, i think it's best if^G

We stay apart^D
So run, run, run, run, run, run
While you can cause I hurt^G

Everything that crosses my path

^D
It's just who I am

Em
And now I've lost my key
And now I can't let anyone in^G

And I'm trying so hard to find it

But every key that I find it don't fit
Em
And this house is so full and messy
This house I call my head^G

And I'm trying so hard to find it^D
But letting you in it's the hardest part^{Em}

Letting you in it's the hardest part^G
Letting you in it's the hardest part^D

The hardest part

Em
Oh I know deep down I want you so cause
I dream of us on the beach, sand in^G

Our toes
Dancing around the early hours of the^D

Morning, hand in hand, softly slowly
^G
Falling in love, with you^D

Em
But now I've lost my key
And now I can't let anyone in^G

And I'm trying so hard to find it
But every key that I find it don't fit
Em
And this house is so full and messy
This house I call my head^G

And I'm trying so hard to find it^D
But letting you in it's the hardest part
