Whoa oh oh oh whoa

We used to get high together, instead of getting high alone.

I can't remember the last time I saw you.

I can't remember the last time we talked.

You left home for a fresh start, working as a waitress down in Bradenton.

With my name tattoo'd into your skin.

[Chorus]

Because of the shame I associate with vulnerability

I am numbing myself completely.

Can you hear me right now?

I watched your mother bury you today, with tears in her eyes.

well, It wasn't her words that shook me, it was the resemblance you shared.

D A G A

Whoa oh oh oh whoa

D A Bm A G A

Whoa oh oh oh whoa

Don't it seem so detached and unreal? Don't it seem so far away?

Like the past never happened, or like nothing's ever changed.

With your casket open in front of me,

your eyes closed and your lips silent.

With my name tattoo'd into your skin.

Because of the shame I associate with vulnerability

I am numbing myself completely.

I am numbing myself completely.

Can you hear me right now?

I watched your mother bury you today, with tears in her eyes.

Well, It wasn't her words that shook me, it was the resemblance you shared.

D A G
Whoa oh oh oh whoa

D A G
Whoa oh oh oh whoa

I didn't listen to the preacher.

I couldn't look your husband in the eyes.

I'm not sure what I meant to you then,

so I'm not sure what I owe you now.

But if something I said hurt you

I swear it was not my intention.

With your name tattoo'd into my skin.

With your name tattoo'd into my skin.

Because of the shame I associate with vulnerability

I am numbing myself completely.

Can you hear me right now?

I watched your mother bury you today, with tears in her eyes.

well, It wasn't her words that shook me, it was the resemblance you shared.
