                                                                fire start
                                                                And I, I can see that you feel the same way
I, I was the lonely one Wondering what went wrong, why love had gone
                                                                I never dreamed there'd be someone to hold me
    Eb Bb
And left me lonely
                                                                Until you told me and now that I've found you
I, I was so confused, feeling like I'd just been used

I used to think I was tied to a heartache
