

Alan Jackson - Another Good Reason Not To Drink

Tom: E

(intro) riff B E

(verse I)

I woke up the other night lyin' on the floor

Right beside someone I'd never seen before
She said my name is Juliet romeo you ain't

That's another good reason not to drink

(refrão)

That's another good reason not to drink

When I'm sober I'm almost a saint
If I keep goin' on like this

I'll end up like ole Hank

That's another good reason not to drink

(verse II)

I can't go see my best friend

He said stay away

Just because of what I said on his wedding day
You oughta call her sherman

'cause she look's just like a tank

that's another good reason not to drink

(refrão)

That's another good reason not to drink

That's another good reason not to drink

When I'm sober I'm almost a saint
If I keep goin' on like this

I'll end up like ole Hank

That's another good reason not to drink

(solo)

(verse III)

(bridge)

Now I'm gonna sue the city about that policeman
Last night as I left the bar

He stepped right on my hand
He said are you drunk or blind

I said let me think

And that's another good reason not to drink

(refrão)

That's another good reason not to drink

When I'm sober I'm almost a saint
If I keep goin' on like this

I'll end up like ole Hank

That's another good reason not to drink
Baby let me in I'm freezin'

And another good reason not to drink

(violin solo)

(refrão)

(fade out)
