

Alan Jackson - Blues Man

Tom: G

^G
 He's just a singer, a natural born guitar ringer ^C
^D Kind of a clinger to sad old songs ^G
 He's not a walk behind, he's a new note finder ^C
^D But his names a reminder of a blues man that's already gone ^D ^G
 So he started drinkin', took some things that messed up his thinkin' ^C
^D He was sure sinkin' when she came along ^G
 He was alone in the spot light, not too much left in sight ^C
 She changed all that one night when she sang him this song? ^D ^G
 (chorus)

^G Hey baby I love you, Hey baby I need you ^{Am}
^D ^C
^G Hey baby you ain't got to prove to me you're some kind of macho man ^{Am}
 You've wasted so much of your life, runnin' through the dark nights ^D ^C ^D ^G

Let me shine a little love light, down on that blues man.

^G ^C
 He got so sick from speedin', all the things they said he was needin' ^D ^G
 If he was to keep on pleasin' all of his fans ^C
 He got cuffed on dirt roads, he got sued over no shows ^D ^C ^G
^C She came an took all that old load down off that old blues man ^D ^C ^G
 And he sang?

(chorus)

^G ^{Am}
 Hey baby I love you too, Hey baby I need you ^D ^C ^G
 Hey baby I do get tired of this travelin' band ^{Am}
 I'm over forty years old now, nights would be cold now ^D ^G
 If you hadn't stuck it out with this blues man ^{Am}
 He's over forty years old now, nights would be so cold now ^D ^G
 If she hadn't hung around with that blues man.

(solo)

Acordes

