

Alex & Sierra - Scarecrow

```
Tom: B
                                                                                                                                                                                                                 (B E Gb11 E 2x)
                                                                                                                                                                                                                 You used to be so full of life
        Afinação em E aberto(E B E Ab B E ) e capotraste na 7ª casa Not just an empty shell
Se preferir, afinação em D aberto(D A D Gb A D ) e capotraste
                                                                                                                                                                                                                You're out there, all alone, I wonder why
na 9ª casa
                                                                                                                                                                                                                 (B E Gb11 E 2x)
ACORDES INTRO/VERSO:
                                                                                                                                                                                                                 The pieces keep on falling out
                                                                                                                                                                                                                 And I pick them up myself
Intro: B E Gb11 E (2x)
                                                                                                                                                                                                                 But I'd let you steal the buttons from my eyes
                                                                                                                                                                                                                 PRÉ-REFRÃO:
(B E Gb11 E 2x)
I'm standing still without you
In the emptiest of fields
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   Dbm
                                                                                                                                                                                                                 This is where it starts tonight
I wish that I could say what's on my mind
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     Gb
                                                                                                                                                                                                                 If you open up your heart tonight
(B E Gb11 E 2x)
The straw that fills your heart
So you never have to feel
                                                                                                                                                                                                                 REFRÃO:
You say that you just need a little time
                                                                                                                                                                                                                 You're staring out the window
(B E Gb11 E 2x)
                                                                                                                                                                                                                 And I'm out here in the street
Davs like this
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              Ε
I bury my each and every word % \left( 1\right) =\left( 1\right) \left( 1\right) +\left( 1\right) \left( 1\right) \left( 1\right) +\left( 1\right) \left( 1\right)
                                                                                                                                                                                                                 You stand there like a scarecrow
And hide them underneath these lonely trees
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           Gb
                                                                                                                                                                                                                 And I'm begging you to speak
(B E Gb11 E 2x)
The harvest moon is wicked
I know that you've been hurt
                                                                                                                                                                                                                 You used to be my solid ground
But I swear I'm here for good, I'll never leave
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        Gb
                                                                                                                                                                                                                 Now I'm drowning in the sea
ACORDES PRÉ-REFRÃO:
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       Dbm
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             Ebm
                                                                                                                                                                                                                 And I just wanna believe in you and me
                                                                 Dbm
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     (B E Gb11 E 2x)
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       Dbm Ebm
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          F
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                Gb
This is where it starts tonight
                                                                                                                                                                                                                 Yeah I just wanna believe in you and me
                                                                     Gb
If you open up your heart tonight
                                                                                                                                                                                                                 PONTE:
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  Dbm
ACORDES REFRÃO:
                                                                                                                                                                                                                 You said you'd open up for me
                                                                                                                                                                                                                 Well, nothing's what it seems to be
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  Dbm
You're staring out the window
                                                                                                                                                                                                                 How can I make you feel again
                             Gb
                                                                               Ahm
And I'm out here in the street
                                                                                                                                                                                                                 Only you can make me real again
You stand there like a scarecrow
                                                                                                                                                                                                                 (REFRÃO 2x)
                         Gb
                                                                              Abm
And I'm begging you to speak
                                                                                                                                                                                                                 FINAL:
                                                                                                                                                                                                                 (B E Gb11 E 2x)
You used to be my solid ground
                                                                                                                                                                                                                 heeeeya heeey heeeeya heeeey
                        Gb
                                                                           Abm
Now I'm drowning in the sea
                                                                                                                                                                                                                 (B E Gb11 E)
                       Dbm
                                                            Ebm
                                                                                                                                                                                                                 You're staring out the window
And I just wanna believe in you and me
                                                                                                                                                                                                                 And I'm out here in the street
                                                                                                                                    (B E Gb11 E 2x)
                      Dbm Ebm
                                                                  E Gb
Yeah I just wanna believe in you and me
                                                                                                                                                                                                                 You stand there like a scarecrow
VERS0:
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           Dbm
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 Ebm
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             F
                                                                                                                                                                                                                 And I just wanna believe in you and me
```

Acordes

