

Alice In Chains - I Stay Away

Tom: Eb

(acordes na forma do tom Bb )

Capo na 5ª casa

After finding the time and the capo I finally got to work on this song. It looks like there's 3 guitars in this song:

Guitar 1 - a clean electric with a capo on the 5th fret

Guitar 2 - a distorted electric with dropped-D tuning (DADGBE )

Guitar 3 - just your average distorted guitar

It's possible to play the solo with the dropped D (just raise fret numbers on low E-string by 2) and the verse-chords with a finger-barre, but I can't advise that.. Here goes..

Notation

- XhY - hammer on
- XpY - pull off
- XbY - bend at fret X to pitch of fret Y
- XrY - release bent note at pitch of fret X to pitch of fret Y
- X~ - vibrato
- (X) - ghost note
- X/Y X\Y - slides from X up/down to Y
- (...) - hold previous note
- Intro: /VERSE - Guitar 1, positions relative to capo on 5th fret

PRE-CHORUS - Guitar 2, chord notes implied by vocals & bass

Why you act crazy
Not an act maybe etc.

Count 1 & 2 3 4

1 & 2 3 4

CHORUS/OUTRO - Guitar 2

I stay away

SOLO - Guitar 3, enters with short ascending run on the end of chorus

this is i stay away THE RIGHT WAY by alice in chains. You start off with a D chord, C, then into this riff, 1:

1:          3
2:
3:  0      0
4:  0      0      0          X?
5:  3      2      2
6:          3  3  3  3  2  0

The post chorus is 4 power chords D, F, E, and Eb

Chorus is

1: 0 0 0
2: 3 3 3
3: 2 2 2
4:          8  8  10  12
5:          8  8  10  12
6:          6  6  8  10

Sorry, i'm still working on the solo

this home-made tab is by ADAM BENDORF alias THE DUDE on compuserve alias SEYMOUR BUTTS alias KICK-HAPPY.
