

Alice In Chains - Love, Hate, Love

Tom: G

Outro: (With distortion)

Intro: (With Chorusing)

Do that one more time and then do this part and repeat it:

Verse: (Distortion) PM everything.

Repeat it a few times then: (PM all of this too)

Repeat the above two measures, but leave out the E chords at the end.

Yes, I'll throw in the solo:

Repeat that outro part 4 times (I think). Then there is this weird noise. It sounds like little pick scrapes on the top two or three strings. Then, there is a big scrape on the bottom two strings. After that, play the outro once and begin to slow it down. Finally, play this and repeat it twice, but without that final D note on the third string when your repeating it:

Letra:

I tried to love you; I thought I could
 I tried to own you; I thought I would
 I want to peel the skin from your face
 Before the real you lays to waste

You told me I'm the only one
 Sweet little angel- you should have run
 Lying, crying, dying to leave
 Innocence creates my hell

Cheating myself; still you know more
 It would be so easy with a whore
 Try to understand me little girl
 My twisted passion to be your world

Lost inside my sick head
 I live for you but I'm not alive
 Take my hands before I kill
 I still love you, I still burn

Love, hate, love
