

Alter Bridge - Before Tomorrow Comes

```
Tom: Eb
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    Damn it all I'll make a difference from now on Ab Eb Bb
(Intro)
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     Cause I'm wide awake to it all
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  Ab Eb Bb
gtr1 (clean)
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     Cause I'm wide awake to it all
gtr2
                                                                                                                                                 fade in dist
Intro: Ab2 Eb Bb Bb
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     So don't let it be
                     (Ab2 Eb Bb )
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             Ab Eb
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     Before tomorrow comes
                     (Ab Eb Bb )(2x)
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               Eb Bb
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     Before you turn away
I couldn't sleep I had to listen % \left\{ 1\right\} =\left\{ 1\right\} =\left
Ab2 Eb Bb Bb
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     Take the hand in need
To a conscience knowing so well
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         Ab Eb
Ab2 Eb Bb Bb
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     Before tomorrow comes
That nothing comes from indifference
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              Fh Dh Ah Bh
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     You could change everything
          Ab Ab Eb Bb Bb
I look inside of myself
Ab2 Eb Bb Bb
Will I find some kind of conviction?
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    Does anyone care it ain't right what we're doing?
Ab2 Eb Bb Bb
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             Ab
Will I bid the hero farewell?
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    Does anyone care it ain't right where we're going?
Ab2 Eb Bb
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      Ab
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             Eb Eb Eb Bb
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    Does anyone dare justify how we're living?
Will I be defined by things that could have been?
                        Ab Eb Bb
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          Ab Eb Bb
I guess time will only tell
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    Does anyone here care at all?
                         Ab Eb
I guess time will only tell
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     So don't let it be
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              Ab Fb
So don't let it be
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    Before tomorrow comes
                        Ab Eb
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 Eb Bb
Before tomorrow comes
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     Before you turn away
                       Eb Bb
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 Ab
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     Take the hand in need
Before you turn away
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           Ab Eb
Take the hand in need
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     Before tomorrow comes
                     Ab Eb
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     You could change everything
Before tomorrow comes
                                                        Fh Bh
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 Ab Fb
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    We could be so much more than we are
You could change everything
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  Ab Eb
( Ab2 Eb Bb Bb )
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     We could be so much more than we are
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 Ab Eb
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    We could be so much more than we are Ah2
                        Fb
                                                                               Bh Bh
I curse my worth and every comfort
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        Ab2 Eb Bb
                                             Bb Bb
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    Oh this much I know
That blinded me for way too long
```

Acordes

