

Amanda Cook - The Voyage

Tom: G

VERSE 1:

Speak, even if your voice is trembling
 Please, you've been quiet for so long
 Believe, it'll be worth the risk you're taking

VERSE 2:

You're afraid, but you can hear adventure calling
 There's a rush of adrenaline to your bones
 What you make of this moment changes everything

CHORUS:

What if the path you choose becomes a road

The ground you take becomes a home

The wind is high, but the pressure's off
 I'll send the rain wherever we end up, wherever we end up

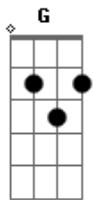

VERSE 3:

Set your sights, sailing far beyond familiar
 In the rising tide, you'll find the rhythm of your heart
 And lift your head, now the wind and waves don't matter

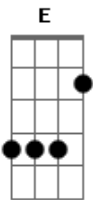

OUTRO:

I am the wind in your sails
 I am the wind in your sails
 I am the wind in your sails
