

Amelia Watson - Gura Doesn't Know I Exist

Ahh tom: G Oh, gura, gura Not long ago in my high school days Do you have any clue who I am? Listen up 'cause I'll tell you once I watched a girl from so far away But every time she passed me by And I'll explain myself the best that I can G C I turned my head away and quietly sighed Woah, gura, gura You don't know me so I'll have to persist And when she walked by her hair would dance Secret tango that only I could understand Kinda shy so no wonder why And when she asked me for the time of day Gura doesn't know I exist I look her in the eyes and quietly say 1/178 Oh, gura, gura Has benn a day that I come to hate Do you have any clue who I am? As I walked into the video store Listen up 'cause I'll tell you once There she stood as my jaw fell to the floor And I'll explain myself the best that I can Tapping your toe, and waiting in line G C Em Woah, gura, gura With a movie and ina by her side D Why did I bother, why did I care? You don't know me so I'll have to persist Kinda shy so no wonder why About this girl named G Gura doesn't know I exist Gawr gura Past the class, I followed her Gura, gura Let her tour, leave her undisturbed You'll never get to know hu I am And if she ever stopped and turned around This is goodbye, so please don't cry Get so nervous I stare at the ground And I'll let you down softly as I can Then one day in photography Oh, gura, gura Find a contact print that I cannot believe Another name to cross off my list С And there she was staring back at me In another life it could've been nice but So I took her up so quietly Gura doesn't know what she missed Acordes
