

Andie Case - I'll Have You

```
Intro: Db Ab Fm Eb
                                                         We have all our heart desires
                                                                       Ab
                                                         We?re so much better when we?re together
                    Ah
I?m safe and sound when you?re around me
                                                         Because our love is enough
And I thank God that you found me
I know we?ll make it ?cause you won?t break it
                                                         I won?t be scared even
             Eb
Won?t regret the steps we?re takin?
                                                         If my world is fallin? apart
                                                         Db Ab

?Cause I know you?ll be here with me
              Ab
You lift me higher than the fire
                                                         Like you?ve been from the start
Give me all my heart desires
                                                                         Db Ab
                                                         All that I?ve been through brought me closer to you
You?re the reason I?m believin?
                                                             Db Ab
                                                         No I won?t be scared even if my world is fallin? apart
             Eb
That our love is enough
                                                              Db Ab
                                                         ?Cause I?ll have you, you, you
                                                         Gb Eb ?Cause I?ll have
I won?t be scared even
If my world is fallin? apart
                                                         When I?m feelin? solo and the world gets so cold
   Db
?Cause I know you?ll be here with me
                                                                       Fh
                                                         Your love keeps me warm
Like you?ve been from the start
            Db Ab
                                               Fm Eb
                                                         And with you I just know
All that I?ve been through brought me closer to you
                                                         I have found my home
   Dh Ah
                                Fm
    Db Ab
?Cause I?ll have you, you, you
?Cause I?ll have
                                                               Db
People doubt us no clue about us
          Eb
We both know they?re just jealous
                                                                    Db Ab
                                                         All that I?ve been through brought me closer to you
They can hate it but they won?t break it
                                                              Db Ab
                                                         No I won?t be scared even if my world is fallin? apart
             Eb
They only mad that their love is fakin?
                                                            Db Ab
We?re lifted higher than the fire
