

Arctic Monkeys - Arabella

Tom: G
Intro: Em Am G Em Am G
Em Am G Em Am G

It's an exploration she's made of outer space
And her lips are like the galaxy's edge
And her kiss the color of a constellation falling into place

[Verso]

Arabella's got some interstellar gator skin boots
And a Helter Skelter 'round her little finger and I ride it endlessly
She's got a Barbarella silver swimsuit
And when she needs to shelter from reality
She takes a dip in my daydreams

[Refrão]

My days end best when the sunset gets itself behind
That little lady sitting on the passenger side
It's much less picturesque without her catching the light

The horizon tries but it's just not as kind on the eyes
As Arabella
Oh As Arabella

Just might've tapped into your mind and soul
You ca--a--n't be sure

[Verso]

Arabella's got a '70s head
But she's a modern lover

[Refrão]

My days end best when the sunset gets itself behind
That little lady sitting on the passenger side
It's much less picturesque without her catching the light

The horizon tries but it's just not as kind on the eyes
As Arabella
Oh As Arabella

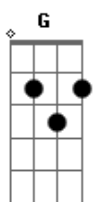

Just might've tapped into your mind and soul
You ca--a--n't be sure

(That's magic) in a cheetah print coat
(Just a slip) underneath it I hope
(Asking if) I can have one of those
(Organic) cigarettes that she smokes
(Rubs her lips) 'round a Mexican Coke
(Makes you wish) that you were the bottle
(Takes a sip) of your soul, and it sounds like

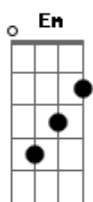

[Solo]

Just might've tapped into your mind and soul
You ca--a--n't be sure
