I'm always my own guy, I do what I need to get by
I believe my way is the only way
Flattery is a dull blade
So I won't use that to get my point made
'Cause you're far too smart
I'm not smart enough

I never answer to no-one
I always walk, 'cause I can't run
Hand-to-mouth, and day to day

But my pride is killing me
I just can't get where I want to be
I'm lost, I need someone to show the way

Couldn't see for looking, staring at the sun
I had no idea of what was to come

All summer it was only you
You were a gift from above

Two hearts could only beat as one
We could not get enough
I've never been completely lost
I've never been so in love

How did my heart become so soft?

Like Joe Dimaggio's glove

I don't like the telephone
And I don't much mind if I am alone
The right place and the right time
Are here and now
I live in the moment
And I don't say things that I never meant
And I won't promise that which I cannot do

I couldn't see for looking, staring at the sun
I had no warning of what was to come

All summer it was only you
Just the sound of your voice
Two hearts could only beat as one
I did not have a choice

I've never been completely lost
Never been so in love
How did my heart become so soft?
Like Joe Dimaggio's glove

I don't know how, I don't know why
All I know now is that
I will never be the same again
