

Aurora - Gentle Earthquakes

Tom: Ab

(forma dos acordes no tom de G)
Capostrate na 1ª casa

How cold a tear can feel on warm skin
So delicate, violently it begins
Within this universe I will be lost
Moving from rivers to mountain tops

I can't stay here
I'll throw myself in the ocean
I lift myself
And run

Like a gentle earthquake, it intensifies

It's like my lungs are breathing fire
(My heart! My head! My mind!)

And if the fire dies
My body will be the truth

And the light will guide her
Light will guide her

The fascinating way, you change your colours
The ugly and the flawless beauty of us
With a combination of purple and pink
The only traces of our love blossoming

I'm not home
In a place where love has been broken
I lift myself
And run

Like a gentle earthquake, it intensifies

It's like my lungs are breathing fire

(My heart! My head! My mind!)

And if the fire dies
My body will be the truth

And the light will guide her

(My heart! My head! My mind!)

Twisted body parts, moving synchronized

Watching lightning strike in my lover's eyes

All the flowers grow to a luscious field

All connecting love

It becomes a human shield

In the eleventh hour

Finally a hidden flower

In the last moment

Finally it opens

Like a gentle earthquake, it intensifies

It's like my lungs are breathing fire

(My heart! My head! My mind!)

And if the fire dies
My body will be the truth

And the light will guide her

(My heart! My head! My mind!)

(My heart! My head! My mind!)

Twisted body parts, moving synchronized

Watching lightning strike in my lover's eyes

All the flowers grow to a luscious field

All connecting love
