

Backstreet Boys - Love Will Keep You Up All Night

Tom: Eb
Intro: Cm F Bb

I won't tell nobody
I'll just scream it in my mind
Nothing good in life is scripted
It's not like we predilected
That the one you want
Is going to be the one you thought

I won't tell nobody
But I won't live like a prisoner
Nothing has to be so perfect
Can you tell me was it worth it
Because her heart can't lie
And even though her face may try
Love can keep you up all night

Cause love will keep you up all night
It's nothing that you can't decide
One day you're all alone
The next you're crying on the phone
Love will keep you up all night
You gotta taste the sweet divine
To get to the other side
Love will keep you up all night

If I don't tell a living soul
Still everyone would know
Yes, they would
It's always 3 am somewhere
You know it when you get there
Some people try to cover it up
Some people think it's never enough

Ooooh, love will keep you up all night
It's nothing that you can't decide
One day you're all alone
The next you're crying on the phone
Love will keep you up all night
You gotta taste the sweet divine
To get to the other side
Oh, love will keep you up all night, Ooh

I don't mean to scare you
But everybody has a first time
One day when you're old and gray
Don't look back and never say
You should have tried
Stayed up all night

Love will keep you up all night
It's something that you can't decide
One day you're all alone
The next you're crying on the phone
Love will keep you up all night
You gotta taste the sweet divine
It took you to the other side

Love will keep you up all night
It's something that you can't decide
One day you're all alone
The next you're crying on the phone
Love will keep you up all night
You gotta taste the sweet divine
It took you to the other side
