Wednesday morning at five o'clock as the day begins
                                                               Why would she treat us so thoughtlessly how could she do this
                    B7
Silently closing her bedroom door
                                                               She "We never thought of ourselves". Is leaving "never a thought for ourselves"
Leaving the note that she hoped would say more
        E Bm
                          Gbm
She goes downstairs to the kitchen clutching a handkerchief Home "We struggled hard all our lives to get by"

                                                                                        Gb7
                                                               She's leaving home after living alone for so many years
                                                                    Bm
Quietly turning the backdoor key stepping outside she is free
                                                                                Gbm

                                                               Friday morning at nine o'clock she is far away
She "We gave her most of our lives". Is leaving "sacrificed most of our lives"
                                                               Waiting to keep the appointment she made meeting a man from Home "We gave her everything money could buy"
