

The Beach Boys - Heroes And Villains

Written by: Brian Wilson/Van Dyke Parks

Note: This song is another fine example of Brian Wilson's creative mind. Here is a rough idea of the bass work. It seems fairly simple, and probably should be played on a 5-string bass, but here it is arranged on a 4-string.

VERSE(S)

Repeat this pattern again for Verse II: "Once at night...". End the second last bar simply on "a--4--".

CHORUS:

Note: Allow note to sustain over the whole 4 bars.

a----6-----6-----6-----6-----6-----6----- e-----6-----6-----6-----6-----6-----6----- 1 2 3 4 1 2 3 4 1 2 3 4 1 2 3 4

      1 2 3 4 1 2 3 4 1 2 3 4 1 2 3 4
Do.....ah.."

VERSE III: Repeat Verse tab for "La La La...la", and "Shall be Peace in the Valley" section. After this the BASS drops out and there is the vocal exercise.

BRIDGE I: Doesn't sound like there's any bass, but try this anyhow - I like it. Tempo slows down, assume to half the speed of Verse.

d-----3-----4-----6-----4-----3-----3-----
a----4-----6-----6-----6-----6-----6-----6----- 1 2 3 4 1 2 3 4
"My Children.....rise.....wealthy"
```

```
d-----3-----4-----6-----4-----3-----3----- a----4-----6-----6-----6-----6-----6-----6-----6- (hold note)
      1 2 3 4 1 2 3 4
Wise.....(tempo starts to slow)

BRIDGE II: "I've been in this town". No Bass.

CHORUS: Repeat Chorus pattern, till fade out.

There you have it! I think it gives a basic idea of the song. Any problems, comments, corrections or suggestions, don't hesitate to e-mail me at-
