

Bee Gees - Songbird

Tom: F

Go on with your song, bird you will go on and on, bird, though your wings are broken, and the wind is waiting for you though you go so far away, so well

you'll never really, ever know, how beautiful, you are---

when the moon is on the rise, i'll try to make my songbird fly

I wonder if he ever will and if he really did, how far--

 like you did before

though your wings are broken, the sky is so wide open and the wind is waiting for you like an open door though you go so far away, your voice will still be heard
