Em
Stormy nights, I've been waiting
Satisfy you, oh baby
But his love is just a game
And he's selling you the same old lies
And I'm hangin' on the wire
And no closer to the fire
And you don't hear me when I cry
You may need someone to lean upon
When he's gone, when he's gone
And what is left is a love so strong
When he's gone, when he's gone

You wouldn't believe to what extent
My mind is going to
You wouldn't deny me in your dreams
You couldn't belong to someone else
If you could see me now
And I'd be the only one
When he's gone when he's gone

Em
My understanding that you remember
For whom the bell tolls, oh baby
I swear to you I pray
That you feel the battle rage
For the saving of my soul

And it's a struggle to survive
You know it's keepin' us alive
And baby I don't wanna die

I will be someone you lean upon
When he's gone, I can see the end of time

when he's gone, that makes you mine
And what is left is a love so strong
When he's gone, I'll let you know when he's gone, that won't let go

You wouldn't believe to what extent
My mind is going to
You wouldn't deny me in your dreams
You couldn't belong to someone else
If you could see me now
And I'd be the only one
When he's gone when he's gone

when he's gone

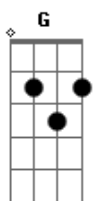

I will be someone you lean upon
When he's gone, Don't tell me it's too late when he's gone, don't make me wait

And what is left is a love so strong
When he's gone, I can see the end of time
when he's gone that makes you mine

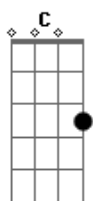

I will be someone you lean upon
When he's gone, I'll let you know
when he's gone that won't let go

when he's gone
when he's gone
when he's gone
