

Ben Howard - Bones

Tom: C

Oh, go, far from this small town bar we know
 Oh, go, frolic in the lights
 That brought you here so very long
 And hold, hold your lips so tightly
 That the shadows may go
 'Cause I know, I know, I know
 I know you can never be alone
 'Cause it's just the bones you're made of
 And you laugh like you've never been lonely
 That's alright, honey
 That's alright with me
 And you laugh like there's hope in the story
 That's alright, honey
 That's alright with me
 Oh, you laugh like I'll be there to hold you always
 Always here
 I'm always, honey, always here
 Oh, go, silent as death on the first day of the snow
 Oh, go, leave these fires burning
 A house of embers and coal
 And cover, cover all those boys that search
 For love in your room
 'Cause lust is just a child's game
 And you, you were always late to bloom
 And you laugh like you've never been lonely
 That's alright, honey
 That's alright with me
 And you laugh like there's hope in the story
 That's alright, honey
 That's alright with me
 Oh, you laugh like I'll be there to hold you always
 Always here
 I'm always, honey, always here
 And you love like you've always been lonely
 That's alright honey
 That's alright with me
 Oh, you love him with all of your body
 That's alright honey
 That's alright with me
 Oh, you love him like he'll be there for always
 Always, honey, always near
 Always, honey, always near
 Always, honey, always near
 Oh go far from this small town bar we know
 Oh go, leave me with this bird and this song
 Out here in the cold
 Cause it's just the bones you're made of
