

Beyoncé - Plastic Off The Sofa

Ooh, the rest of the world is strange tom:
                Ē
                                                                Just stay in our lane
                                                                F7M
                                                                Just you and me and our family
                                                       B7M
Boy, I know that you can't help it but be yourself
                                                                I think you're so cool, even though I'm cooler than you
'Round me, yourself 'round me, no
                                                                Boy, I love that you can't help it but be yourself
And I know nobody's perfect, so I'll let you be I'll let you be Around me, yourself around me
It's the way you wear your emotion on both of your sleeves, ah Sugar, well, you trippin',
To the face you make when I tell you I have to leave, ooh
                                                                 I know we'll make up and make love
                                                                   B7M
                                                                 So I let you be, I let you be
                                                                                              G<sub>b</sub>7
But I like it, baby, ooh
                                                                 It's the way you listen when I'm cryin', you let me lean in
I like it, baby
                                                                                           Gb7
                                                                 It's the way you want one more kiss after you said you are

But I like it, baby, baby leaving
                                                                 E7M
But I like it, baby
                                                                But I like it, baby, baby
                                                                 (yes, I like it, baby, yes, I like it, baby)

                                                                Yes, I like it, baby (like it, baby)
They're too hard on me, they're too hard on you, boy
                                                                 Like it (like it), i like it
I'll always be your secret weapon in your arsenal, your
                                                                 I love it, baby

And I know you had it rough growing up but that's okay
                                                                 I like it, baby
                                                                            E7M
(that's okay, baby), i like it rough (that's okay, baby)
                                                                 I like it, I love it, baby
Even when you let your feelings get in the way
                                                                I like it, baby
(let your feelings get in the way)
                                                                Yeah, I like it, oh, like it, I like it, yeah
I still like it, baby
                                                                 I like it, baby
                                                                B7M
Ooh, I like it, baby (like it, baby)
                                                                I like it, baby
But I like it, baby (like it, baby)
                                                                Now, I like it, baby
Baby, baby (like it, baby)
                                                                Baby, come on over
I still like it, baby, baby, baby, baby
                                                                Ooh, like it, baby
                                                                And I need you, baby
