

Billie Joe + Norah - Barbara Allen

Tom: F
Intro: Bb F C F

F
T'was in the merry month of May

Bb F
Sweet Willie on his deathbed lay
C F
For the love of Barbara Allen

F
He sent his servant to the town
Bb F
The town where she did dwell in
Bb F
Saying "Master dear has sent me here
C F
If your name is Barbara Allen"

F
Then slowly, slowly she got up
Bb F
And slowly she went to him
Bb F
And all she said when she got there
C F
"Young man, I think you're dying"

F
"Oh don't you remember the other day
Bb F
When we were in the tavern?
Bb F
You drank your health to the ladies there
C F
And you slighted Barbara Allen"

Bb F C F

F
He turned his face unto the wall
Bb F
He turned his back upon her

Bb F
"So long farewell to all my friends
C F
Be kind to Barbara Allen"

F
She looked to the east, she looked to the west
Bb F
She saw his corpse a-comin'
Bb F
"Oh sit him down for me" she cried
C F
"That I may gaze upon him"

F
The more she looked the more she grieved
Bb F
She bursted out to cryin'
Bb F
Sayin' "Pick me up and carry me home
C F
For I feel like I am dyin'"

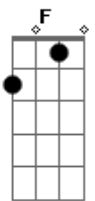

Bb F C F

F
They buried Willie in the old churchyard
Bb F
And Barbara in the new one
Bb F
From Willie's grave there grew a rose
C F
From Barbara's a green briar

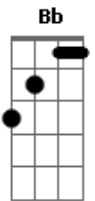

F
They grew and grew to the old church wall
Bb F
And could not grow no higher
Bb F
And there they died in a true love-knot
C F
The rosebush and the briar

Bb F C F

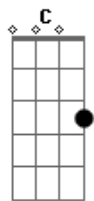

Acordes

© ukulele-chords.com

© ukulele-chords.com

© ukulele-chords.com