```
Tom: G
                                                                                 G|- G - C
                                                              You're leading me,
  E| - 3333 - 2 - 3 - 5 - 7 - - 7 - 8 - 10 - 7 - 8- 10- 7
(Verse 2)
                                                              He stumbled in the gym, on graduation day, And I couldn't help but feel, so ashamed,
                                                              And I wasn't suprised a bit, that he didn't stay.
                                                              He stumbled out before they called my name, And I thought,
E|- 3333 - 2 - 3 - 5 - 7- - 7 - 8 - 10 - 7 - 3
                                                              (Chorus 2)
Walk a little straighter daddy,
                                                              You're swayin side to side,
                                                              It's not just me who's whachin,
                                                              You caught everybody's eye,
                                                              And you're trippin and stumblin,
                                                              And even though I've turned eighteen,
                                                              Walk a little straighter daddy,
I remember lookin up, to look up to him,
                                                              You're still leading me
And I remember most the time, he wasn't there,
                                                              (bridge)
I'd be waiting at the door, when he got home at night,
                                                              The old man still like he always was,
                      G
                                        D D
                                                And I'd say,
He's pass me by to go pass out in his chair,
                                                              But I, love him anyway
                                                              If I've learned one thing from him it's my, \Gamma
(Chorus 1)
                                                              Kids will never have to say,

Walk a little straighter daddy,
                                                              (Chorus 1)
You're swayin side to side,
                                                              Walk a little straighter daddy,
                                                              You're swayin side to side,
                                                              Your footsteps make me dizzy,
Your footsteps make me dizzy,
                  D
                                                              And no matter how I'd try,
And no matter how I'd try,
                                                              I keep trippin and stumblin,
                                                              If you'd look down here you'd see,
       Am7
                  G
I keep trippin and stumblin,
                                                              Walk a little straighter daddy,
                                                              You're leading me,
If you'd look down here you'd see,
                                                              Walk a little straighter daddy,
                                                              You're leading me
