

Birdy - Unbroken

Tom: Gb

Could you keep your head up when you're losing ground?

Could you keep your head up, ooh ooh ooh

Everything you once loved like your own blood comes crumbling down

Could you keep your head up, ooh ooh ooh

Sometimes the tears we cry

Are more than any heart can take

We hurt, just keep it inside

Small wonder that it starts to break

Many moons will light up the way

As sure as night will follow day

And everything you once loved Remains

unbroken, unbroken

Many moons will light up the way

As sure as night will follow day

And everything you once loved Remains

unbroken, unbroken

Could you find a daydream in the dead of night?

Could you find a daydream, ooh ooh ooh

Keep the quiet victory to a whisper in an uphill fight

Could you keep your head up, ooh ooh ooh

Sometimes the tears we cry

Are more than any heart can take

We hurt, just keep it inside

Small wonder that it starts to break

Many moons will light up the way

As sure as night will follow day

And everything you once loved Remains

unbroken, unbroken

Sometimes the tears we cry

Are more than any heart can take

We hurt, just keep it inside

Small wonder that it starts to break

Everything you once loved lies unbroken

Many moons will light us

Many moons will guide us

Everything you once loved lies unbroken

Leave the past behind us

Leave the past behind us

Many moons will light up the way

As sure as night will follow day

And everything you once loved Remains

Unbroken, unbroken
