

Blind Melon - Cheatem Street

Tom: A

(intro / versos / refrão)

(pré-refrão)

I guess you're stuck with...

A
It was late one night in Southern Texas
A
My dad was playing in a rock-n-roll band
A
He took me along to a place called Cheatem Street
A
My bags were packed, I was ready to meet you for the first time
D
Oh but a phone call would have been nice

A
I guess you're stuck with what was given to you
Dbm
And the world couldn't change my spirit
D
This will remain the same

A
You were young and living like you wanted to
A
I understand because I packed up and left just like you did
A
At 17 you think you got the whole world in your hands
D
Oh in so many ways you did

A
I don't want to have you worry no more
Dbm
Let's forgive and forget and finish what we started
Dbm
So we can move on

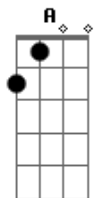

G
I want you to know I really needed you then
And I can use you now
G
I talked to you by listening to all of those stupid songs
G
I would sit along side of the fence

A
Now you're doing fine and you're gigging here and there
A
It's been nice to know you for the past few years
A
When you're living the same dream it's easy to read each other for sure
D
Ohhh it could have turned out so different

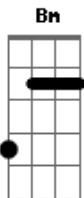

A
I guess you're stuck with what was given to you
Dbm
And the world couldn't change my spirit
D
This will remain forever

A
I don't want to have you worry no more
Dbm
Let's forgive and forget and finish what we started
Dbm
So we can move on
