

Blur - Chemical World

Tom: G

The pay-me girl has had enough of the bleeps
 So she takes a bus into the country
 Although she got herself rosy cheeks
 She didn't leave enough money to pay the rent
 The landlord says that she's out in a week
 What a shame she was just getting comfy
 Now she's eating chocolate to induce sleep
 In a chemical world it's very, very, very cheap

And I don't know about you
 F#min C#min Bmin D F

They're putting the holes in, yes, yes
 It's been a hell of a do
 F#min C#min Bmin D F
 They've been putting the holes in, yes, yes

Peeping Thomas has a very nice view
 Across the street at the exhibitionist
 These townies they never speak to you
 Just stick together so they never get lonely
 Feeling lead, feeling quite light-headed
 Had to sit down and have some sugary tea
 In a chemical world, in a chemical world
 it's very, very, very cheap
