Blur - Mor

Tom: D
Intro: /VERSE

note:
  This is basically the Intro and the verse ..but there is a trick to it. When playing the D string at the 12th fret it is important to use harminics, by just lightly placing your finger over the 12th fret. This is the same with the slide from the 5th to 12th fret, just lighty touching the sting, as you slide up, picking really fast. This is how Grahem gets that synthesizer effect.
oh yeh, just play the open string normaly as you would.

  O.K the rest of it is really simple, with the chorus you can use either open or power chords

CHORUS
D   A
Here comes a low (I'm a boy and you're a girl)

G   A
Here comes a high (The only ones in the world)

D   G
Here comes everything (You and me we'll work it out)

        A Here it comes

                      D
You, me, we'll work it out
