BoA - Duvet (acústico)

Tom: D

```
                      G          Bm
And you don't seem to understand
                      Em7         Bm
A shame you seamed an honest man
                      G          Bm
And all the fears you hold so dear

                      Em7         Bm
Will turn to whisper in your ear
                                 G
And you know what I sad might hurt you
                               Bm
And you know that means so much
                      Em7         Bm
And you don't even feel a thing

     Em7       Bm    G
I am falling, I am fading
       Em7      Bm   G
I have lost it all

                      G          Bm
And you don't seem the lying kind
                      Em7        Bm
A shame then I can read your mind
                      G          Bm
And all the things that I read there
                      Em7         Bm
Candle lit smile that we both share

                               G
And you know I don't mean to hurt you
                               Bm
But you know that to means so much
                      Em7         Bm
And you don't even feel a thing

    Em7       Bm   G           Em7
I am falling, I am fading, I am drowning
Bm      G
Help me to breathe
     Em7       Bm  G
I am hurting, I have lost it all
     Em7
I am losing
Bm     G
Help me to breathe
