

Bonnie Tyler - Here She Comes

Tom: G
 Intro: E A E A E
 A Shade begins to steal the light,
 E A confusion throws another mystery.
 E A It's out of focus with the eye,
 E A E A so now you wonder is this just a dream.
 E A Here she comes, here she comes,
 E A she's gonna cause a sensation now,
 E A and just between you and me,
 E A G I think she'll soon have you temptation bound.
 C Em D E Suppose who knows, she's not above suspicion
 C Em D E Is she, maybe, on some kind of secret mission, better listen!
 C Em D E Somewhere, somehow, there's still some pieces missing,
 C Em D E I sense, I feel, trust my intuition don't rush into your decision.
 (Instrumental:) A E A E
 A E A Now here's a riddle in a rhyme,
 E A if she's the same how come she's different now.
 E A

The same old eyes but not the shine,
 E A you know you're certain but you're full of doubt.
 E A Now, here she comes, here she comes,
 E A she's gonna have you at her beck and call.
 E A So why refuse, yeah why contend,
 E A G when all resistance is impossible.
 C Em D E Somewhere, somehow, there's still some pieces missing,
 C Em D E I sense, I feel, trust my intuition don't rush into your decision.
 (Instrumental:) A E A E
 A E A Now, here she comes, here she comes,
 E A she's gonna have you at her beck and call.
 E A So why refuse, yeah why contend,
 E A when all resistance is impossible.
 E A Here she comes, here she comes,
 E A this lady's serious, make no mistake.
 E A Face to face and eye to eye,
 E A she'll cast a spell that you may never break.

Acordes

