

Borns - Dug My Heart

tom:

A

You dug my heart a grave

I watched you illustrate

The expression of another lonely girl

And there you lie awake

And wish you knew a way

To fade the blaring silence from your only world

And now you're

Running to the sound of the light

Running to the sound of the light

Running to the sound of the light

Ooooh, oh. It's inevitable

Ain't it? You left without saying

Ooooh, oh, I hope the cracks in the pavement

Lead back to you baby

Back to you baby

I've burnt so many memories

Just to make room for any

Thoughts of caressing your sweet

Anatomy as we sleep

The taste you left on my teeth

Your breath across my left cheek

The feeling chemically oh

And now you're

Running to the sound of the light

Running to the sound of the light

Ooooh, oh. It's inevitable

Ain't it? You left without saying

Ooooh, oh, I hope the cracks in the pavement

Lead back to you baby

Back to you baby

Ahh, ah, ahh, ah

Ahh, ah, ahh, ah

And now you're

Running to the sound of the light

Running to the sound of the light

Ooooh, oh It's inevitable, ain't it?

You left without saying

Ooooh, oh, I hope the cracks in the pavement

Lead back to you baby

Back to you baby
