

Bryan Adams - Someone's Daughter, Someone's Son

tom:
A

Oh, oh
Oh, oh, oh, oh
I was okay at first, my mum met my dad
He was on the booze, then it all went bad
There was violence, we couldn't turn him 'round
Was sick of being abused, sick of nervous breakdowns
Addiction hit me, white lines and alcohol
Smoking weed, was numb to it all

Don't walk by, spare a thought for this man
Don't walk by, just do what you can

Do what you can

Someone's daughter, someone's son
We're out there together in every weather
Someone's daughter, someone's son
You are invisible, not invincible
Just invisible

Invisible

Oh, oh

Was in a dark place, was stoned and drunk
But there's no fear when you're high on junk
I was slipping away, I was breaking down
Then I'd do another trick on the wrong side of town

Don't walk by, spare a thought for this man
Don't walk by, just do what you can

Do what you can

Someone's daughter, someone's son
We're out there together in every weather
Someone's daughter, someone's son
You are invisible, not invincible
Just invisible

Invisible

Oh, oh

Are you giving the support you can and inspire everyone to go slow?

Slow

To change their lives, change attitudes, not fear what you don't know

Know

Are you someone's guardian angel?

Someone's guardian angel

Someone's daughter, someone's son

We're out there together in every weather
Someone's daughter, someone's son

We're out there together in every weather

Someone's daughter, someone's son

You are invisible, not invincible
Just invisible

Invisible

Someone's daughter, someone's son
