The verse goes a little like this:

Then there's some semi-chromatic lick I'm not sure how it goes... just listen close... you'll be able to figure it out.

Then there's the part that goes:

"He's going the distance"

(I'm not exactly sure about this note)
That's about all there really is... There are a few variations here and there but nothing really major... no solo... so it's a pretty easy song to play.

If there are any questions, comments, what ever... let me know.
