

Caleb - You're Your Own Problem (Adventure Time)

tom:
 Laradadada
 You say you'll bury me in the ground
 Laradadada
 And that you'll bury me with your sound
 You can drink the red from this
 Feverish face, is that all?
 (Are you done yet?)
 Cause I'm tired of feeling guilty for this!
 Is that what people really think about me?
 That I'm a God, above all of you?
 I've never claimed that all I am is perfect
 That could not be further from the truth
 Sorry, if I seem malicious
 But I can sympathize with you
 I know that it hurts when you're lonely
 But I can't take that burden from you!
 So, you're not my problem, well
 You're your own problem!

It's like you've, forgotten who loves you
 And now, what will you say?
 I'm just your problem?
 Now, you wear this defensive attitude
 I suggest we talk about what's eating at you
 You're sorry that you exist
 Every day you place yourself on that blacklist
 And I will always be here, but it's not My battle to save you from you
 But, yes I still want to Oh, I still want to
 But I must stand and watch, (we will survive!)
 But I still want to
 I guess that's why you wanna bury me in the ground
 It's because I care!
 It's why you wanna bury me with your sound
 I'm sorry that it's this way
 But one day you'll finally understand
 And I promise you, you could never push me away
 And I cannot wait for when you say when you say
