Wishing I was fair to you
And all you do
But keeping me alive is what
I'm hoping for
Never even seen you stare
A little hurt
Celebrating empathy
It comes and goes

I should've noticed you are not afraid of blood
Should've noticed you are not afraid of blood
Should've noticed you are not afraid of blood
Should've noticed you're not

As I am on the first step
Of looking up the sad facts
You've been leaving bodies everywhere you go
Mission is accomplished
Convoluted, lovesick
I can see the bodies now

When I was there
I wasn't toiling for the others
(Keep 'm apart)
Functioning hearts
Shouldn't be filled with all the others

I should've noticed you can be a little much
Should've noticed you can be a little much
Should've noticed you can be a little much
Should've heard your sighs, the cracking of the earth

As I am on the first step
oof looking up the sad facts
You've been leaving bodies everywhere you go

Mission is accomplished
Convoluted, lovesick
I can see the bodies now

When the sun is up
When the sun is up
When the sun is up
I will bury them all
