

Cause And Effect - You Think You Know Her

Tom: G

Like Children
 Rarely seen and never heard
 Emotion
 Bare your soul you'll never learn
 But don't ask why
 And you won't get lied to
 Speak to them softly
 It's something you get used to
 You Think you know Her
 But you never really
 Lived a life without her
 Couldn't tell me
 The things she said
 The books she read
 The way she looked when the morning came
 The time of night that you held her tight

But you'll never forget the day she ran away
 I found her all alone lost in a crowd
 When she saw me
 I felt so much I cried aloud
 She turned away
 I couldn't speak to stop her
 The only sound I heard
 Was the echo of her laughter
 You Think you know Her
 But you never really
 Lived a life without her
 Couldn't tell me
 The things she said
 The books she read
 The way she looked when the morning came
 The time of night that you held her tight
 But you'll never forget the day she ran away

Acordes

