

Charlie McDonnell - A Song About Acne

say okay
Intro: 2x: G D A C
                                                               Get out of the bathroom, and lie out in the sun (because I heard that helps)
spots on my face, too much acne to embrace
The person behind them
Zits on my back, with heads bright white, scarlet and black
                                                               Clearasil and Freederm, sitting in my bathroom
In much too much an awkward place to pop them
                                                               The spots on my face can confirm that they don?t really work
                                                               Proactiv solution deserves an execution
Pimples on my chest, probably there because I?m stressed
                     D
                                                               For being an ablution that does nothing but smirk at me
About the people talking behind my back
                                                               'Cause I?m an acne ridden teen
About the spots on my face, the ones I wish I could erase
Just like the so called friends that like to tease me about
                                                               But I won?t let that define me
                                                               Because the people that mind don?t matter
(Refrão)
                                                               And the people that matter don?t mind
Clearasil and Freederm, sitting in my bathroom
                                                               So when all that puss goes splatter
The spots on my face can confirm that they don?t really work
                                                              Wipe it off your mirror, and wipe it from your mind
Proactiv solution deserves an execution
                                                               You could try and dairy free diet
                                                               And drink 8 cups of water a day
For being an ablution that does nothing but smirk at me
'Cause I?m an acne ridden teen
                                                               But in the end your acne will still run riot
                                                               'Cause the hormones that cause them, just won?t go away
( G D A C ) (2x)
                                                               (GDAC)(4x)
Countless times I?ve tried and tried but my skin just ends up
                                                              Clearasil and Freederm, sitting in my bathroom
And I?m left wanting to say inside
                                                               The spots on my face can confirm that they don?t really work
But then one day I said: ?Charlie, it?s not as bad as it could
                                                               Proactiv solution deserves an execution
They?re only spots, it?s not like you?ve died?
                                                               For being an ablution that does nothing but smirk at me
                                                               'Cause I?m an acne ridden
Be a man, be who you are, but try not to pop them in case they Somewhat smelly,
Even though squeezing them is fun, fun, fun
                                                               Kind of weird
Understand at the end of the day to put your hands down and
                                                               But generally, a OK teen
