On my way I'm collecting stories

A good idea, I can't ignore it

I, I write it down when I'm alone

I build and build, I shrink and grow

And without a doubt something arises

I fall in love or I despise it

I, I tell, I sell, It's my production

I'm always under reconstruction

This is a reverie

The world is a treasury

I feed on memories and change my identity

This is a reverie

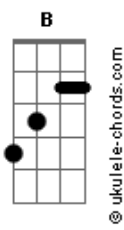

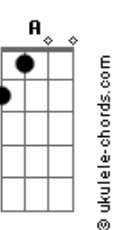

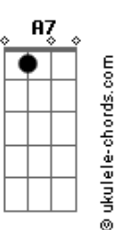

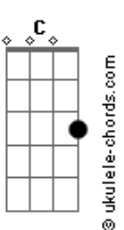

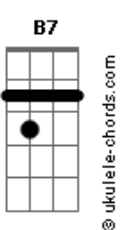

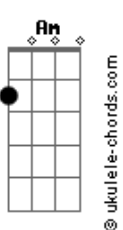

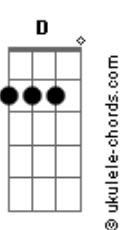

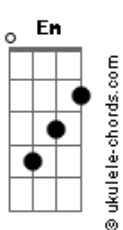

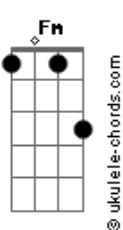

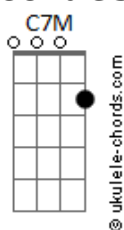

The world is a treasury

I feed on memories and turn them into my identity

So when I tell you I'll keep your secret, when

You pour your heart out I truly mean it, but

The things you say change my perspective

That's what it means to be connected

This is a reverie

The world is a treasury

I feed on memories and change my identity

This is a reverie

The world is a treasury

I feed on memories and turn them into my identity

(Em C7M D B7)

(Em C7M D B7)

I feed on memories, I feed on

I feed on memories

I feed on memories (and now I kiss your tears away)

I feed on memories (remember every word you say)

This is a reverie (I put our feelings on display)

This is a reverie
