

Chelsea Cutler - Your Shirt

Tom:

Intro: G D Bm A G D Bm A

This time it don't feel like you want it all

Did I do something wrong to make you go?

Said I would know when it's all good to fall

Now I just need you here to hold me close

Cause I don't want another heart to fill the holes

That you left under my covers for me to grow cold

I don't wanna miss somebody who's not missing me

But the city feels so lonely when you leave

My room, where I want you

Tangled ease in my sheets

In your shirt that I got you

Half asleep, holding onto me

My bed where you left me

Tangled up, now it's noon

In your shirt that you gave me

Half asleep, wishing I still had you

This time you said you're playing games again

What are we becoming of it now?

It's fine, I said, if you're the one in my head

Cause I just don't know how to put you out

[Pre-Chorus]

Cause I don't want another heart to fill the holes

That you left under my covers for me to grow cold

I don't wanna miss somebody who's not missing me

But the city feels so lonely when you leave

My room, where I want you

Tangled ease in my sheets

In your shirt that I got you

Half asleep, holding onto me

My bed where you left me

Tangled up, now it's noon

In your shirt that you gave me

Half asleep, wishing I still had you

Ooh ooh ooh ooh ooh ooh

Ooh ooh ooh ooh

Ooh ooh ooh ooh ooh ooh

I'm half asleep, wishing I still had you
