

Chris Cornell - Enemy

Intro: Eb Bb F Gm
                                                             I will never save this feeling till I feel nothin nothin nothin nothin
 Every time the blood runs through my head, I hear the ring
             Bb
                                                             I am the enemy, enemy, enemy inside of me enemy, enemy, enemy
 Something to remind me I'm not dead or caught in between
               Bb
 I listen to the voice & what it says, it's never sweet
                                                              Every time I take another breath, I feel the sting
                Bb
                                                                 Bb
Something I was born into, I guess, living in me
                                                               Everyone around me seems so numb, I feel everything
No price, nothin I pay will make it
                                                             Taking my time to untangle the liars & stare into my sanity Alright, nothin I see will make his Dropping the hammer & pulling the trigger, I know now the New sight, nothin I take will make me bullet is me
Sleep at night, sleep at night
                                                             I am the enemy.... inside of me....
                                                                     Gm
                                                          Gm I am the enemy, enemy enemy inside of me enemy enemy enemy
 When I look within I feel like I should be runnin, runnin
