

Citizen - Broken Bells

tom:

Ab

This is a day without, a trace of reason
 No matter where you turn
 And the walls will fall, affirming nothing
 So what's it all about?

Call on your brightest star
 Or play your hand as endless wounds always speak too loud

Get along for a while, citizen, you'll see
 How the innocent are bound to the damned
 What is, just is, I know. So we're trapped by answers

Love haunts to the end

Are we all to ride, the edge of nothing?
 Shaking hands with fighting eyes
 And if they don't know, The heart is stopping cos everyone is right

Get along for a while, citizen, you'll see
 How the innocent are bound to the damned
 What is, just is, I know So we're trapped by answers
 Love haunts to the end

From the moment that we're born, till we're old and tired
 do we ever know People?
 From the moment that we're born, till we're old and tired
 do we ever know People?
