

City And Colour - The Death Of Me

Tom: G
Intro: Em G C G A (x2)

Em G
Do I have nothing good left to say
C G A
Do I need whiskey to start fueling my complaints
Em G
People love to drink their troubles away
C G A
sometimes I feel that I'd be better off that way

Em G
'Cause maybe then I could sleep at night
C G A
I wouldn't lie awake until the morning light
Em G
This is something that I'll never control
C G A
My nerves will be the death of me I know

Em G
So here's to living life miserable
C G A
And here's to all the lovely stories that I've told
Em G
Maybe drinking wine will validate my sorrow
C G A

Every man needs a muse and mine could be the bottle

Em G
Maybe then I could sleep at night
C G A
I wouldn't lie awake until the morning light
Em G
This is something that I'll never control
C G A
My nerves will be the death of me I know

C A Em
Finally I could hope for a better day
C A Em
No longer holding on to all the things that cloud my mind
C A Em
Maybe then the weight of the world wouldn't seem so heavy
C A Em
But then again I'll probably always feel this way

Em G
At least I know I'll never sleep at night
C G A
I'll always lie awake until the morning light
Em G
This is something that I'll never control
C A Em
My nerves will be the death of me I know
