

Clarity - Exorcism

Tom: F

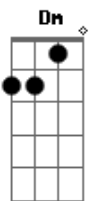

When the TV comes on all by itself
 Switching channels, losing signal
 That's how I know when you're around
 You mess, you mess with my head
 Playing games so sick and twisted
 Just to hear me call for help
 I'll wait for you to let me go
 Can't wait for you to let me go
 But you won't
 So I'll replay my body and my soul
 Banish the broken from my bones
 You're no longer my religion
 So I take on a whole new energy
 Manifest a better part of me
 Gotta rid you from my system
 It's time for an exorcism
 When the phone rings, the entire room goes cold
 I find myself choking on tears and
 Makeshift nooses from the telephone chord
 And your voice, it's like nails on a chalkboard
 Every time you speak my knees go weak

And I fall halfway out the door
 I'll wait for you to let me go
 Can't wait for you to let me go
 But you won't
 So I'll replay my body and my soul
 Banish the broken from my bones
 You're no longer my religion
 So I take on a whole new energy
 Manifest a better part of me
 Gotta rid you from my system
 It's time for an exorcism
 Uh...It's time for an exorcism
 Uh...It's time for an exorcism
 Uh...It's time for an exorcism
 And it starts right now, and it starts right now
 I would rather die than with you inside, gotta pull you out
 And it starts right now, and it starts right now
 I would rather die than with you inside, gotta pull you out
 So I'll replay my body and my soul
 Banish the broken from my bones
 You're no longer my religion
 So I take on a whole new energy
 Manifest a better part of me
 Gotta rid you from my system
 It's time for an exorcism
