

Cobi - Church Of The Lonely

Love is not fair
Bb Eb F
                       tom:
                                                     And war isn't holy \mathsf{Cm}
                                  Eb
                                                     This is our prayer
Bb Eb
Sweethearts never last down here
               Cm Bb Eb F
                                                     The church of the lonely
Say nothing sweet about love
We walk on the line my dear
                                                     Leave your tears at the alter
   Cm Bb Eb F
                                                              F Cm
Fall and never get up
                                                     Your son's and your daughters'
                                                              Bb Eb F
                                                     It's out of our hands
It's out of my hands
                                                     Cm Bb Eb
          Eb
                                                     Love has finally caught us
But i won't leave you
                                                      F Cm
                                                     We tried to be strong but
           Cm Bb
                                                     Bb Eb F
It's out of our hands
Enough of your faith
         Eb
Where does it lead you
                                                     Trapped in a lonely time
Cause love is not fair
                                                     Cm Bb
                                                     Waiting for what comes around
            Eb F
And war isn't holy
Cm Bb
                                                       Ab
                                                                    G Bb
                                                     If that's what it's all about Cm D Eb
This is our prayer

Eb
                                                     Close my eyes and lay it down
The church of the lonely
                                                     Ab G Bb
                                                     So much to talk about
                                                     Cm Bb
So afraid to let it out
Leave your tears at the alter
                                                                 G
Your son's and your daughters'
                                                     But we'll find a way somehow
  Bb Eb F
It's out of our hands
                                                     Close to here D Eb
Cm Bb Eb
Love has finally caught us
                                                     But far from now
F Cm
We tried to be strong but
                                                     ( Cm Bb Eb )
 Bb Eb F
                                                     Cm Bb
It's out of our hands
                                                     Leave your tears at the alter
             Bb Eb F
                                                      F Cm
No fear for the law man
                                                     Your son's and your daughters'

                                                       Bb Eb F
No words for the judge Cm Bb Eb
                                                     It's out of our hands
                                                     Cm Bb Eb
Lost out to a mother long gone
                                                     Love has finally caught us
F Cm Bb Eb F
                                                       F Cm
Nah the devil ain't done
                                                     We tried to be strong but
