

Cody Simpson - Crazy But True

Tom: A
                                                                 I think I finally found a girl
She gives me love, gives me love
                                                                 I want to rule my world
Like all the time
                                                                 It's crazy but true, it's crazy but true
A big heart, pretty smile
                                                                 Can't see myself with nobody but you
A beautiful mind
When she walks in the room
                                                                 It's crazy but true, it's crazy but true
                                                                 She's got that kind of love that keeps me in a good mood
Man, look how she shines
Don't need no spotlight
                                                                 Interlúdio:
                                                                 It's crazy but true, it's crazy but true
No fancy design
                                                                 Can't see myself with nobody but you
Pré-Refrão:
A
Yeah, yeah, that's my baby
                                                                 It's crazy but true, it's crazy but true
That's, that's my baby
                                                                 She's got that kind of love that keeps me in a good mood
Never want to leave her
                                                                 Interlúdio:
                                                                 I'm singing, I'm singing, I?m singing
You couldn't pay me
And I, oh I
                                                                 Yeah girl you got me singing, singing
I think I finally found a girl
                                                                 Ponte:
I want to rule my world
                                                                 All my friends tellin' me
                                                                 That I should take my time, take my time
Refrão:
It's crazy but true, it's crazy but true
                                                                 Leave it up to me and I?ll be with ya
Can't see myself with nobody but you
                                                                 Day and night, rain or shine
It's crazy but true, it's crazy but true
                                                                 Pré-Refrão:
She's got that kind of love that keeps me in a good mood
                                                                 Yeah, yeah, that's my baby
Interlúdio:
                                                                 That's, that's my baby
I'm singing, I'm singing, I?m singing
                                                                 Never want to leave her
Yeah girl you got me singing, singing
                                                                 You couldn't pay me
Verso 2:
                                                                 And I, oh I
Yeah, always include her
                                                                 I think I finally found a girl
In all of my plans
                                                                 I want to rule my world
She's right behind me like the pocket
                                                                 Refrão:
On the back of my pants
                                                                 It's crazy but true, it's crazy but true
                                                                 Can't see myself with nobody but you
She knows what I'm thinking
                                                                 It's crazy but true, it's crazy but true
Before I get the chance
                                                                 She's got that kind of love that keeps me in a good mood
To tell her so I got to
Thank her in advance
                                                                 Outro:
                                                                 I?m singing, oh woah
Pré-Refrão:
                                                                                            woah
Yeah, yeah, that's my baby
                                                                 You got me singing, singing, yeah yeah yeah
That's, that's my baby
                                                                    Everybody, everybody
Never want to leave her
                                                                 You got me singing, singing, yeah yeah
You couldn't pay me
                                                                 I think I finally found a girl
