

Collapse - Don't

So say, so say
Tom: D
Don't stop
                                                                That you were calling my name
Don't stop
                                                                Don't leave me here now
Thinkin' about all the times I messed up
                                                                Promisse won't let you down
                                                                I can see my mouth in your mouth
Don't stop
                                                                Take my hand, touch my soul
Don't stop
                                                                we won't let them break our love
Remember all the days I made you cry a lot
                                                                Just don't let they make you head amd make you cut me off
Don't stop
                                                                0h oh
Don't stop
                                                                Don't let they break our love
Make me feel like my heart will stop
                                                                0h oh
                                                                Please don't leave me alone
Don't stop, don't stop
By the way, anyway, I will still call your name
                                                                Just don't let they break our lo---ve
                                                                [Refrão]
Just stay, by my side, and don't leave me afraid
                                                                Bm
Cause it may, Heeey, make happier my day
                                                                Don't stop, don't stop
                                                                We are dancing all day
Don't stop, don't stop
                                                                Bm
We are dancing all day
                                                                Don't say, don't say
                                                                I can't live without you here
Don't say, don't say
I can't live without you here
                                                                Please stay, please stay
                                                                We don't have all day
Please stay, please stay
                                                                Bm
So say, so say
Gbm
We don't have all day
                                                                That you were calling my name
