

Common Hymnal - He Has Time

Tom: G

Something's been stolen
 Under the weight of the curse you've been broken
 You're not what happened
 You're more than the shame you were recklessly given

You silently scream through the tears you can't keep from falling
 Wishing they poured out enough to break through the hurting

Jesus runs after the broken ones
 Weeping with those who weep, crowns them with purity
 And years of shame shatter in Jesus name

You can't shake the feeling
 He's not in a rush he has time for your healing

Lean on his shoulder
 It's never too late and, your story's not over

You wish you could go back in time rewrite your own ending
 Then you find faith to believe it's just the beginning

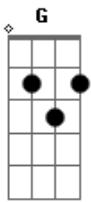

(D A Em G)
 (Bm A Em G)

He is here and he has time
 To take what's wrong and make it right

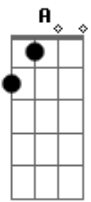

Jesus runs after the broken ones
 Weeping with those who weep, crowns them with purity
 And years of shame shatter in Jesus name

Jesus runs after the broken ones
 Weeping with those who weep, crowns them with purity
 And years of shame shatter in Jesus name
